The wine

Our last Sauvignon Blanc vines grow on limestone soil in the sun-drenched area of Sankt Laurenzikapelle. The vineyard nestles like a parabolic mirror on the idyllic southern slope in the valley of the Dünnbach.

Here we let the grapes ripen for different lengths of time so that green and tropical aromas are combined in the wine. The expansion in the 670 liter concrete egg promotes the salty, aromatic fruit, ripening with micro-oxidation through the pores of the concrete without the influence of wood. On the nose it combines pink grapefruit, yellow fruits, floral and yeasty notes. On the palate, it presents a ripe acidic nerve, a lot of melting, texture and juiciness that linger for a long time. Thanks to the small yields, it is multi-layered and well structured.
