The Roter Hang on the Nierstein Oelberg is counted among Germany's very finest vineyards. The stony Rotliegend soils, a unique reddish slate and sandstone mix, impart these Rieslings with a stunning minerality and playful character. The nose opens with notes of ripe apricots and tropical fruit. The oil can on the label is a play not only on the vineyard name, but also a reference to this powerful wine's texture, so concentrated that it appears almost oily in the glass.
